Division III.13A of the Principal Act is amended by repealing and replacing it with the following:

“189AA. APPLICATION OF DIVISION.

This Division applies notwithstanding anything in any other Act.

189A. INTERPRETATION.

(1) In this Division, unless the context otherwise requires or some other meaning is clearly intended -

“dividend” includes a part of a dividend;
“person” includes a trustee.

(2) For the purposes of this Division, other than Section 189D, where a dividend paid by a company that is a resident is included in the income of a trust estate, the trustee of that trust estate shall be deemed to have derived that dividend.

189B. LIABILITY TO DIVIDEND (WITHHOLDING) TAX.

(1) Subject to Subsection (2), this Division applies to income that consists of a dividend -

- (a) paid by a company that is a resident; or
- (b) deemed to be a dividend by virtue of this Act; or

• Income Tax (Amendment)

- (c) deemed to be a dividend paid by a company by virtue of Section 361.

(2) Where a resident company pays or credits a dividend to which this Division applies, to -

- (a) a resident individual; or
(b) a resident trust estate; or
(c) a non-resident person,

the company making the payment or crediting the dividend in the account, shall withhold and pay tax upon that amount at the rate prescribed by Section 10 of the Income Tax, Dividend (Withholding) Tax and Interest (Withholding) Tax Rates Act 1984.

(3) For the avoidance of doubt, the persons specified in Subsection (2)(a), (b) and (c) who derive dividend income to which this section applies, are liable to dividend withholding tax.

(4) This section does not apply to -

- (a) income derived by a non-resident that is exempt from income tax by virtue of Section 25(a) or (b) or Section 26, 27 and 28, and is exempt from income tax in the country in which the non-resident resides; or

Income Tax (Amendment)

(4) The Commissioner General may, in any case, for reasons that he thinks, sufficient, remit the additional tax or any part of the additional tax.

(5) Any unpaid dividend (withholding) tax, and any unpaid additional tax payable under this section, may be sued for and recovered in a court of competent jurisdiction by the Commission General suing in his official name.

(6) Subject to the provisions of Part V.2, the ascertainment of the amount of any dividend (withholding) tax shall not be deemed to be an assessment within the meaning of any of the provisions of this Act.

(7) The Commissioner General may serve on a person, by post or otherwise, a notice in which is specified -

- (a) the amount of any dividend (withholding) tax that the Commissioner General has ascertained is payable by that person; and
- (b) the date on which that tax became due and payable.

(8) The production of a notice served under Subsection (7), or of a document under the hand of the Commissioner General purporting to be a copy of such a notice, is evidence that the amount of dividend (withholding) tax specified in the notice or document became due and payable by the person on whom the notice was served on the date so specified.

and in computing assessable income of the above taxpayers, no deduction shall be allowed in respect of any expenditure for or in connection, directly or indirectly, with the earning of dividend income.

189E. REFUND OF DIVIDEND (WITHHOLDING) TAX.

(1) Subject to Subsection (11), where a resident company derives a dividend to which Section 189B applies, it shall record in its books of account the gross amount of such dividend (being the amount of the dividend before the amount of dividend (withholding) tax was deducted) in an account entitled "Undistributed Dividend Income Account" and the amount of dividend withholding tax for which it is liable under Section 189B in respect of that dividend in an account entitled "Refundable Dividend (Withholding) Tax Account".

(2) Subject to Subsection (10) and (12), a resident company is entitled to receive a refund of dividend (withholding) tax in respect of any amount paid out of the Undistributed Dividend Income Account as a dividend to a shareholder.

Income Tax (Amendment)

(3) The amount of refund under Subsection (2) is that proportion of the balance of the Refundable Dividend (Withholding) Tax Account as the amount paid or to be paid out of the Undistributed Dividend Income Account bears to the balance of that account before that payment is or was made, as the case may be.

(4) Where a resident company referred to in Subsection (1) declares a dividend in favour of an exempt body, it shall apply to the Commissioner General, in a form approved by him, advising him of the amount it intends to pay out of its Undistributed Dividend Income Account in respect of the declared dividend, and the Commissioner General shall refund to the resident company the dividend (withholding) tax calculated in accordance with Subsection (3).

(5) Where a resident company receives a refund of dividend (withholding) tax under Subsection (4), it shall, within 21 days immediately after receiving that refund, pay to the exempt body of the amount of that dividend declared.

Penalty: A fine not exceeding double the amount refunded to and not paid out to the exempt body by the resident company and, in addition, the court shall order the resident company to repay the Commissioner General the amount of that refund not paid out to the exempt body.

(6) Where a resident company pays a dividend out of its Undistributed Dividend Income Account to a shareholder who is not an exempt body, it may notify the Commissioner General, in a form approved by him, at least 14 days before the date it is required to make the payment under Division III.13A in respect of that dividend, requesting that the payment due or to become due under that Division be made from any refund payable to it under this section and, upon that application being made, the liability of the resident company under that Division in respect of the dividend, and the liability under Sections 189B and 189C of the recipient of the dividend, is discharged.

(7) Upon the payment of a dividend from the Undistributed Dividend Income Account, the resident company shall immediately deduct -

(b) from the Refundable Dividend (Withholding) Tax Account, the refund calculated under Subsection (3).

(8) Subject to Subsection (9), no resident company shall make an entry in its Undistributed Dividend Income Account or its Refundable Dividend (Withholding) Tax Account other than -

- (a) an entry provided for by Subsections (1) and (7); or
- (b) in the case of the Undistributed Dividend Income Account, an entry necessary to include as assessable income a dividend derived during the year of income by the resident.

Income Tax (Amendment)

(9) A resident company shall, in respect of any amount of dividend to which Section 189B applies and in respect of which it is not entitled to a refund of dividend (withholding) tax under this section, in addition to any entry referred to in Subsection (7), make the necessary accounting adjustments to its Undistributed Dividend Income Account and its Refundable Dividend (Withholding) Tax Account as soon as practicable after it is no longer entitled to a refund of dividend (withholding) tax in respect of that amount.

Penalty: A fine of not less than K200.00 and not more than K1,000.00.

(10) Subject to Subsection (4) and (6), instead of making a refund that might otherwise be made under this section, the Commissioner General may, where the resident company is liable or about to become liable to make a payment or a deduction under this Act, apply to that other liability the amount that would otherwise be refundable.

(11) A resident company that derives a dividend to which Section 189D applies may, on or before the date on which it derives that dividend or within such further time as the Commissioner General allows, lodge with the Commissioner General an election in writing to record only the net amount of the dividend derived or to be derived by it, and upon so electing, the provisions of this section do not apply to or in respect of that dividend.

(12) A resident company is not entitled to a refund of dividend (withholding) tax under this section in respect of the whole or any part of a dividend derived that has not been paid out as a dividend by the company within the seven years of income or substituted accounting periods immediately following the year of income or substituted accounting period in which the dividend was so derived.
